Today i'm beginning to see the light again. I'm off the meds and i'm starting to enjoy my life. But I'm still in a lot of pain. I've been around here for the last year and the half since i was diagnosed with cancer. I've seen doctors, surgeon, and the radiation therapist for over a year. My oncologist told me that I could continue my chemo if i wanted to. I asked her if it would cure me. She told me that I needed to move on. If I just had to live another year or two, it would be good. I have family in every city I've lived in. I wanted to see if there was a way to try and be somewhat of a normal person for a little bit. I don't think that i'm going to stay this way forever. But i'm trying to find out if I have a chance. I'm told it depends on how much the cancer has spread. The radiation therapist said that if it has spread, there is no way to cure it. I'm trying to take it day by day. If it hurts i sit it out. I don't eat, drink, or do anything for the last few years. But I've been very sedentary lately. I'm trying to work out in the evenings. I'm really bored with life right now. I know that once I start to get better, things are going to be great. For now, I'm trying to enjoy every day that I'm given. I am an alpha male and I am here to take what I want and need. I am always horny and i never have time to get with women. I have a life long problem with drugs
